OUR CIRCULATION.

For the information of advertisers and others who may be interested in knowing, we will state that the present circulation of THE TIMES is between eighteen hundred and nineteen hundred capies each week.

THE TROOPS are to be removed from New Orleans on this week, Tuesday, and it is now to be seen how the promises of a fair government, and equal rights to all will be kept.

THERE seems to be no chance to avert war between Bussla and Turkey. Both nations are stubborn while making preparations for active hostilities. At the present time, though no powder has been burned, it is thought impossible to prevent the conflict.

SEARCH continues to be made in the ruins of the Southern Hotel at St. Louis. Both office safes were taken out and their contents found to be uninjured. In the larger safe was a large amount of property belonging to guests and boarders, including $17,000 worth of diamonds, which were delivered to the owner, Frank E. Karlesen, of New York.

Tweed Squeals.

Boss Tweed has a strong desire to be again free and in order to obtain his liberty has made a confession which implicates many who are holding high positions. A prominent N. Y., politician who is well posted, says: "if Tweed's charges and specifications are allowed to become public, they will create an earthquake in comparison with which the exposure of the Tammany Ring will seem but a small sized torpedo. Nothing like it has been seen in this or any other country. It will reach into nearly every county in the State, and the manner in which this State has been controlled and robbed by a combination of corrupt Republicans and Democrats will be fully shown up. Among the men who will be badly wounded are some who have been heretofore unsuspected, and some of them have been among the londest in their denunciations of Tweed."

Col. A. K. M'Clure, of The Times, Assaulted by Mr. Nat M'Kay.

PHILADELPHIA, April 16.-Quite an excitement was created on Chestnut street at noon to-day by the attempted whipping of Col. A. K. M'Clure, of the Philadelphia Times, by Mr. Nat M'Kay, government contractor. Col. M'Clure was in the company of ex-Gov. Curtin, when M Kay approached with a dog whip and struck him. M'Clure caught M'Kay by the throat, and while holding him some one from behind dealt M'Clure a blow, while another in front hit him over the left eye. The men are supposed to be friends of M'Kay's. One of them got away and the other was arrested along with M'Kay. The prisoners were given a hearing before a police magistrate and were held to ball to answer. It is said that M'Kay made the remark as he approached M'Clure, "If I can't get satisfaction in court I can get it here."

Terrible Consequence of a Cat's Bite.

The New York Herald of the 19th inst., says: On of the most distressing cases of hydrophobia ever seen in this city terminated yesterday at Bellevue Hospital. Robert W. Dickie, aged seventeen, of No. 235 East Thirtienth street, died about half-past three P. M., in one of the cells used for the insane in the hospital. Samuel Richardson died last week of hydrophobia. The same animal's bite proved fatal to both. It appears that Mr. Richardson and young Dickie were bitten on the same day (January 2nd) by the eat which both had been fondling. Richardson was bitten first and died first. It is said that the cat, the cause of so much misery, bit a horse since January, and this animal likewise died of hydrophobia.

A Destructive Thunderbolt.

A dispatch from Petrolia, Butler county, Pa., dated 20th inst., says, yesterday afternoon a heavy storm passed over this section. The lightning struck a large tank on the Troutman farm which contained 12,000 barrels of oil, and the tank was torn to pieces. The burning oll set fire to two other tanks and one containing 25,000 barrels was destroyed. The other was extinguished by steam. The burning oil ran down the creek a mile destroying everything in its course. It was checked by Ralston's dam, which was large enough to hold it and stop further damage. Twelve oil wells with tanks at the well were destroyed. The town of Troutman was destroyed. A pipe line pump station and a number of other buildings were also destroyed.

A Baby Mystery.

Thursday night of last week shortly before 9 o'clock, two deeply veiled women, both well dressed, entered the liquor store of Mr. Simon Grob, Marietta, and without saying a word, deposited a bundle on the counter and then walked out. Mr. Groh thought it singular, but supposing they were persons who knew him and who simply wanted to leave a bundle there for a short time, he thought little of it. As the women did not return, however, he examined the package, which was wrapped in a good shawl, and to his surprise and horror discovered that the bundle contained a sleeping cherub in the shape of a wee female infant, not more than ten days old! The consternation of a respectable married man of 50 at such a fix as this may be better imagined than described, but he pursued a wise course, and, making affidavit to the facts in the case before 'Squire Roth, he secured a permit to place it in the Lancaster County Almshouse, and the foundling was tenderly conveyed to that institution next morning. No clue to the unnatural mother, who deserted it has yet been discovered.- Wrightsville Star.

WASHINGTON, April 16.—In a day or two 200 employees of the bureau of engraving and printing of the treasury department will be dismissed from the service, and this reduction will be followed at the end of the month by an additional dismissal of 200 more employees.

Washington, April 16.—Major Reno who was recently tried by court martial on the charge of insulting the wife of a brother officer and sentenced to be dismissed from the service, has forwarded to the war department a request for a delay in the presentation of the case to Mr. Hayes, claiming that he has additional evidence which will tend to the mitigation of the sentence, and his request has been granted.

A dispatch from Fort Scott, Kansas, says it is now ascertained, beyond doubt, that grasshopper eggs, in that section, are unproductive. Careful experiments have been made, and, in addition, the weather of the past few days has been warm enough to have hatched them by the million, but not one of the pests are to be found. Farm-ers are jubiliant. A big crop of everything is looked for in southeastern Kaosas.

Mr. James Abbott and wife, of No. 180 Lee street, Baltimore, while visiting a relative, on Sunday night, were suddenly called home by a messenger, who announced that their daughter, eighteen years old, was dying. On entering the room the young lady lay dead on a lounge. Mrs. Abbott was so shocked at the death of her daughter that she fell unconscious on the floor and on being lifted up was found to be dead. Mrs. Abbott was thirty-eight years and had previously been in good th. Miss Abbott had been an invalid

Jack Kelioe murdered F. W. S. Langdon, at Audenried, in this State, so far back as 1862, and thought that he would escape. But justice, though slow, overtook him, and he was arrested, tried, convicted, and on the 16th inst., at Pottsville, Judge Pershing sentenced him to be hung. Murder will out, is the old saying, and it seems to hold good even in these days, when justice is said to be blind and ready to wink at crime of whatever magnitude or hideousness. In this case it has met its dues, or will, rather when the sentence is executed.

Washington, April 17.—The secret service division of the treasury is to-day informed by telegraph, that officers of the secret service had made important arrests of counterfeiters at Greenpoint, Pa.; St. Louis, Mo.; and Wheeling, W. Va. Among the parties arrested is the Hon. T. W. Marion, of Greene county, Pa., who formerly represented that county in the legislature. He sold a quantity of counterfeit money to one of the agents of the service, and he represented that he had frequently addressed the state house of representatives when he had his pockets full of counterfeit money. The other parties arrested were Rufus Mitchell, W. F. Strasmider, J. Edwards, Peter Rager and Giovanni Giorgetta. anni Giorgetta.

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 18th, 1877. I know of no American city that has so many pleasant, picturesque and interesting places in and around it as Washington; and now that the leaves and flowers are and now that the leaves and flowers are bursting forth, the grass is green and the air soft and sweet with spring fragrance, every sunny day sees crowds of excursion-ists driving or riding or salling to these lovely piaces. Picnics and all sorts of out of doors pleasuring as the general order of things, and the fine weather is being made the most of; for the time is at hand when none but those who must, will venture out the most of; for the time is at hand when noue but those who must, will venture out of doors from sunrise till sunset and then with little comfort. When it gets so warm that the thermometer stands ninety or a hundred degrees above zero at midnight, and a cooler minute is not seen for weeks at a time, then out-of-door life is not an enviable one. Congress will be in session during the very hottest part of summer and members are disgusted with the prospect. The session promises to be a hot one in more ways than one. The President will find himself opposed by powerful antagonists and that in his own party. Blaine will probably lead the Republican opposi-tion and rumors are already affost of a re-organization of parties. They cannot fororganization of parties. They cannot forget that they waged the campaign on entirely different ground, and that the President is carrying out the Democratic programme instead of the policy outlined by his own supporters before the election. The fact is, the President has a policy of his very own and he intends to be President of his country, and to work for the good of all his fellow countrymen, instead of being chief of a party.

of being chief of a party.

It is understood that the Louisiana case will reach a speedy settlement and most believe that Packard will follow Chamberlain's example and retire from the contest. Nicolls evidently means that he shall do so. The Commissioners have telegraphed for further instructions which have been pre-pared and forwarded, but which the Presi-dent and Cabinet have decided shall not be made public until the whole affair is set Wedding bells are ringing gayly enough. The last chimed to the ceremony which united Miss Zeilin, daughter of the recently retired Commandant of the Marine Corps, to Lieutenant Very of the United States Navy. The wedding took place at the residence of the bride's parents, Gen-eral and Mrs. Zeilin, and the affair was a charming one. Cards are out for the wedding of Miss Eames, a Washington belle and Mr. Alastair P. Gordon Cummings, formerly of Scotland, now of Maryland.—The ceremony is to take place at the Church of the Epiphany on the evening of April 25th. April 25th.

The time for general breaking up is at hand. Few of the clite remain in Washington during the hot months and nice, big houses, furnished or not, are renting very low. People like to have their houses and furnishings taken care of and many are glad if they can place a good, reliable family in their houses during the summer, even without charging rent at all. The Spanish Minister and wife are about giving up their dwelling, and will go to New York to remain two months. Later they propose traveling until the Saratoga season opens in which they usually figure quite extensively during July and August.

A romor is current here that the Grand Duke Alexis is really coming at last.— Washington society watched and waited and sighed in vain for him all winter, and that "society" is over and the season closed he is coming and hopes to be let alone. A grand picnic and excursion to Mt. Vernon is proposed in his honor as he has never yet visited the tomb of Wash-

The Foundry church is unusually popular since the President's family have adopted it as their place of worship. Mrs. ed it as their place of worship. Mrs. Hayes is one of the old fashioned Christians who refuses to have her carriage, horses or servants used on the Sabbath unnecessari-ly. Yesterday President and Mrs. Hayes, ly. Yesterday President and Mrs. Hayes, Mr. Webb Hayes, and their lady guests walked to the Foundry church and joined devoutly in the services. The pulpit was finely decorated with flowers and the church packed to its utmost capacity.

A large assemblage witnessed a unique entertainment at the National Deaf Mute entertainment at the National Deaf Mute College last Wednesday. It was Exhibition and Presentation day and the exercises were all in motions of course. The President, Mrs. Hayes and Secretary Schurz were among the notabilities present. The college building is a large and spacious one, but is not large enough to accommodate all who apply for admission and an addition is in process of erection, being now nearly finished. Among the students in the preparatory department are several
